

CITIZENS HOLD MASS MEETING

Protest Against Proposed Raise in Tax Valuations of Montgomery County.

A large crowd of citizens and taxpayers of Montgomery county met at the Circuit Court Room here Saturday afternoon and organized by electing Major D. J. Burchett, Chairman and Mr. W. F. Horton, Secretary. After short addresses were made by Mr. Henry R. Prewitt, Mr. T. J. Bigstaff and Judge E. W. Senff, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS valuations of property for the purposes of taxation have been increased in Montgomery county five and a half millions of dollars in two years and whereas another increase of two millions is now proposed by the State Tax Commission, which, if added, will make an increase of one hundred per cent in said two years and

WHEREAS the proposed increase is unjust, inequitable, confiscatory and as we believe illegal:

Now therefore be it resolved:

1st. That a delegation of representative citizens and taxpayers be chosen at this meeting, to appear before the State Tax Commission on Wednesday, March 5th, to acquaint it with the facts and protest against its proposed action.

2nd. That S. English Anderson, Robt. C. Gatewood and H. M. Prewitt be appointed a permanent Committee to take future charge of this subject, with authority, should the State Tax Commission persist in its proposed action, to solicit funds, employ counsel and take such legal steps, in the name of the taxpayers of the county, as in their judgment may be necessary to secure justice and fair treatment.

3rd. We recommend the absolute repeal of the present tax law, which was cunningly drawn by certain interests, to shift in the main the burden of taxation from personality toalty and we condemn the State Tax Commission for continuing to yearly increase our assessment, after the people of the county, in good faith, voluntarily increased for the purpose of taxation, the valuations of their property in 1918 to an amount largely in excess of the sum named by Hon. R. L. Greene, member of the Commission and Hon. Ben Marshall, its clerk, at a public meeting of our citizens and which action, on the part of our people said Greene and Marshall assured them would satisfy the Commission

MISS LLEWELLYN CLOUD DEAD

Miss Llewellyn Cloud, formerly of this city, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, after a hard struggle for life with pneumonia following an attack of influenza. The end came Sunday morning. Miss Cloud was about fifty-two years old and is survived by her mother, Mrs. Virginia Cloud and two sisters, Miss Betsy, of Lexington, and Mrs. Frank Warley, of New York, who were at her bedside when death came.

Miss Cloud was educated here, for a period of years taught school here and in Lexington, and retiring from the school room, was one of the leading managers of the Hon. H. M. Bosworth's campaign which resulted in his election as State Treasurer after one of the most heated contests ever waged in Kentucky, much of his success being due to her arduous and persistent labors.

A few years following Miss Cloud became one of the largest owners of the Peerless Laundry, making this plant a decided business success.

In her younger days she became a member of the Mt. Sterling Baptist church and developed into an active worker in both church and Sunday School. She possessed a lovely character, loved and loving. She was a member of the First Baptist church in Lexington, a cousin of Mrs. W. P. Guthrie, of this city, and was buried in the Lexington cemetery. We sympathize with the dear mother and sisters.

PROPERTY SELLS WELL

At the sale of the residence property of the late O. S. Bigstaff held Saturday, Mr. Keller Greene became the purchaser at $8,350. Mr. Greene and family will shortly move to same to reside. It is reported that Mr. Greene was offered a profit on the property a few minutes after he bought same.

Mr. Roland Freeland, who left this city several years ago, and located in South America, surprised his relatives and friends here last week by returning for a short visit. Mr. Freeland looks well and strong and says that he is delighted with his new home. Many friends were glad to see him.

MARINE AT HOME

Sgt. Otto Greer, of this county, who has been in the U. S. Marines, has returned to his home in this county, having been honorably discharged from the service. Young Greer graduated in wireless telegraphy while in the service and may later take up wireless telegraphy as his profession.

and that further increases would not be required.

Relatives were shocked to learn Sunday morning that Mrs. Harry N. Lukins had died Saturday night at Louisville of double pneumonia following an attack of influenza. She was ill only a few days. MR. WILLIAM KINCAID DIES

Friends throughout this section of the State will regret to learn that Mr. William Kincaid died last Thursday from pneumonia which developed after an attack of the flu. Mr. Kincaid lived on his farm near Judy, this county and was highly respected by all who knew him. A man of rugged honesty and integrity he will be sadly missed in the community in which he lived. Mr. Kincaid is survived by his wife and one son, and we are informed that his son is dangerously ill with the same malady that caused his father's death. Mr. Kincaid came to this county from Clark county several years ago. The bereaved family have the sympathy of every one.

GOOD MARES SOLD

The Arbendale Stock Farm, of Iowa, shipped 20 good farm mares to be sold at public auction at the Mt. Sterling Stock Yards Saturday afternoon. The mares were all gentle and well broken and were undoubtedly the best bunch of mares that had ever been shipped to this city to be sold at auction. They sold for from $395.00 per pair to $510 per pair and considering the price of farm stock these animals sold very cheap. The same concern will have another sale Saturday. See advertisement in this issue.

TOBACCO PRICES TAKE TUMBLE

All Grades Are Selling For Much Less Money Than They Did a Few Days Ago.

Like a bolt from a clear sky the prices of tobacco on the loose leaf markets of the State dropped last week and tobacco that had been selling for 18 to 20 cents, dropped to 10 and 12 cents, and the higher grades are now off from 18 to 25 cents per pound. The buyers say they cannot offer any explanation other than that they are acting under orders from headquarters. We were informed that no buyer for the American Tobacco Co. was on the floor of the Whitehall Warehouse here yesterday. We heard one tobacco man say that the impression had gotten out that there was a shortage but that when a recapitulation had been made it was found that more than one hundred million pounds more than bought last year had already been purchased and for this reason the companies would have a good supply and did not feel justified in paying the high prices. Another gentleman suggested that the manufacturers had gotten alarmed at the arrangements being made for tremendous crops next year with the expectation of the high prices paid this year and that they were simply cutting down on the price now in order to warn the grower that he need not expect such prices the coming season. In any event the prices are away off and those who have any tobacco are rushing same to the market with all possible speed.

BUYS INTEREST IN BUSINESS

Mr. Carroll Johnson who has been an employe of the hardware firm of Chenault & Orear, has severed his connection with the concern and has purchased an interest in the grocery store of H. B. Ringo. Mr. Johnson is an energetic, deserving young man and has many friends who will wish him success in his new enterprise.

LETTERS FROM REZIN McCLURE

January 7, 1919.

Dear Mama:

I am sure you feel that I am very ungrateful for not acknowledging receipt of the nice Red Cross package you sent me, which I enjoyed so awfully much, but the truth of the whole matter is that day after I received the package I was sent to the hospital (on Dec. 15), and have been here every since, and am just now able to write, and I am writing this lying flat of my back, the only position I can lay in. Now please don't be alarmed because I will be well again and back with my organization before you get this. I would not have mentioned my illness only for the fact that I thought some explanation was due you for my not writing. Now about the box. Will say that it reached me in good time and in excellent condition, and you have no idea how very much I enjoyed its contents. The watch is fine. You see we can't buy any on this side that are any good. I bought two while in England and neither of them were any good.

Well Mama, as I state above, I spent my Christmas and New Year in bed but the Red Cross was awfully good to us. And by the way if you ever have an opportunity to donate to them do so because they are surely doing worlds of good, and any one who is a patient in a hospital can get anything he wants without cost from them. They absolutely will not accept your money. Another organization that is doing wonderful work over here is the Knights of Columbus. They bring us cigarettes and candy and give them to you, not sell them; also the Salvation Army. These people take hot coffee and cake right into the front line trenches. Now the Y. M. C. A. is the biggest bunch of—in the world. They give absolutely nothing to the fellows and you are only allowed to buy just so much per day no matter how much money you may have. These statements are absolute facts and if the good people back home knew how that organization is conducting its affairs over here I venture to say that they would mob the whole bunch. I don't know whether this will get by the censor or not, but just wait until the A. E. F. get back to God's country and then you will have the whole story first hand.

Well Mama, I think I have done myself proud by writing such a lengthy letter and I deserve a long one in reply but no matter about the length of you people's letters to me, I assure you that they are fully enjoyed. Guess this will be sufficient for this time. Now please don't worry about my condition as I am getting well fast, my trouble has been in my right hip, the hospital authorities say it is due to an old bruise but I don't remember of ever having had one. With love to all.

Sgt. REZIN McCLURE,
Medical Dept., 2nd Aviation Instruction Center, A. P. O. 717, A. E. F., France.

January 22, 1919.

Dear Mama:

I haven't heard from any of you people since I wrote you last, but I am not at all surprised as the mail service has certainly been rotten here since the signing of the armistice. I had a very nice letter each from Durward, Sallie and Alice, and enjoyed each of them, especially the one from Alice as it is certainly a wonder for a child her age.

Well Mama, since I wrote you I have been up on crutches and was out on the streets twice but the second trip proved too much for me so back in bed I went and have been here every since. At first the Medical Officers thought that I had pneumonia, but I disappointed them all by out living their diagnosis. Just when I will get out I don't know but don't you feel at all uneasy because I am receiving the very best attention and am getting along fine. I will write you each week that I am here. I figure that I have about 6 more months to spend in this country so I would just about as soon spend them one place as another.

The 120th Squadron I came over with expects to leave for the States soon but I will not accompany them.

I am in Camp Hospital 27, which is located near our camp but is in no way connected with the camp. A Captain has been taking care of my case and he is certainly a fine man. He has just been around on his night round and I had quite a chat with him and he says that I am getting along fine. But he didn't say when I could get out again. I will have to make the same plea as usual, nothing to write.

With love to all, write soon and don't worry,

Sgt. REZIN McCLURE,
Medical Dept., 2nd Aviation Instruction Center, A. P. O. 717, A. E. F., France.

We do not know whether the committee of citizens who are to appear before the State Tax Commission at Frankfort tomorrow will be able to accomplish anything or not, but we do know it is worth a trial. Neither do we know anything can be accomplished by litigation, should the Commission persist in its announced intention, yet we do know this is also worth a trial. We know the railroads some time ago went into the United States Courts and forced the State to treat them fairly and we see no reason why Montgomery county taxpayers could not do the same. Unless a halt is called, in our humble judgment our property listed at seven and three-quarter millions of dollars in 1917, will in five years be listed at twenty-five millions.

The Jesse James Tax Law has only been in operation two years and our valuations (counting the proposed increase) have advanced one hundred per cent and the Frankfort gang has just fairly begun.

Now what are we to do about it? Sit around and cuss, or make a united resistance? For our part, we say fight 'em, and fight 'em to a finish. Right is right and justice will ultimately prevail.

To the Public!

It gives me pleasure to announce to the public that I have decided to return to Mt. Sterling to reside and that I will again have charge of the Mt. Sterling Greenhouses at the corner of Clay street and Corbett avenue. Anything needed in the way of flowering plants, shrubs, vines, etc., can be found at our greenhouses and will be priced most reasonably. The Spring will soon be here and now is the time to make arrangements for your plants. Come to see us and let us figure with you on your requirements. The buying public was very kind to me when I resided here before and I trust that a share of their patronage will again be given me.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM HORNSBY.

THE DAYLIGHT LAW

The daylight saving law should not be repealed. It served a good purpose while the guns thundered along the Hindenburg line. There is no less work to do, in the world or in America, as a result of the silencing of the guns on the Hindenburg side of the Hindenburg line. Why repeal a law which did no harm and did a great deal of good?

Surely the present time is no time for slacking. The cost of living has not gone down. There are indications of recession of prices of some commodities from war levels, but it is unlikely that at any time during 1919 there will be any marked change for the better from the point of view of the family which must live upon a modest income.

If the daylight saving law had no other value than to give the amateur gardener an hour more than he had formerly in which to till his plot of ground and gather his summer and autumn harvest for the table it would be vindicated.

It is true, of course, that we need not live by the clock. A man who will can adjust his hours by the sun, in summer at least, to the extent that he can rise at daylight without a daylight saving law, but many are so constituted that an hour of liberty as the sun is sinking is worth more to them than an hour when the sun is rising, and those who have headwork to do at desks find it easier to do their headwork first and their handwork last.

Those who work for others, and they are a majority, liked the effect of the daylight saving law last year. There is no good reason why a law so popular and so useful in its demonstrated results should be repealed.

Men and women can get up by the sun, or before the sun rises, as the chickens do, but mankind, in towns and cities at least, long ago formed the habit of getting up by the clock. The farmer always has been a daylight saver, but nothing short of moving the clock forward ever has made the urban population imitate the excellent example of the ruralists.—Courier-Journal.

WIDER INTEREST IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A quickened appreciation in all nations of the value of physical education has resulted from the war, according to Dr. P. P. Claxton, Commissioner of the Bureau of Education, and has been evidenced in this country by the enactment of laws in eight states requiring physical training in the public schools.

A bulletin by the bureau, summarizing legislation on the subject, notes that in France a strong central committee has been formed to promote physical education, and in England comprehensive provisions have been incorporated in the new education law.

Illinois was the first of the American states to require physical training by statute, passing the law in June 1915. Since that time New York, New Jersey, Nevada, Rhode Island, California, Maryland and Delaware have enacted similar laws, and six other states—Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Ohio, and Colorado—have given legislative attention to the subject but have not acted.

In most states which have considered physical education, the initial impulse to action was interest in military preparedness and took the form of bills for military training of high school boys. Investigation resulted in convincing the legislators the bulletin says, that military training for youths was less valuable even as a measure of preparedness than a solid system of physical training. With the exception of Nevada where the law applies to high schools only, the laws apply to all school children and the time requirement ranges from one hour each school week to two hours and a half.

GEORGE WASHINGTON THRIFTOGRAMS

The 187th anniversary of George Washington's birthday was celebrated Saturday. Washington, the successful builder of a nation, gave voice to rules for personal and national success which are as applicable in this 1919 year of necessary Thrift as in his day. Here are some of his words on the use of money, and resources, that might have been written for the present situation in America:

I am no more disposed to squander than to stint.

Economy makes happy homes and sound nations. Instill it deeply.

It is not the lowest priced goods that are always cheapest.

I cannot enjoin too strongly upon you a due observance of economy and frugality.

Keep an account book and enter therein every farthing of your receipts and expenditures.

Promote industry and frugality by example, encourage manufactures, and avoid dissipation.

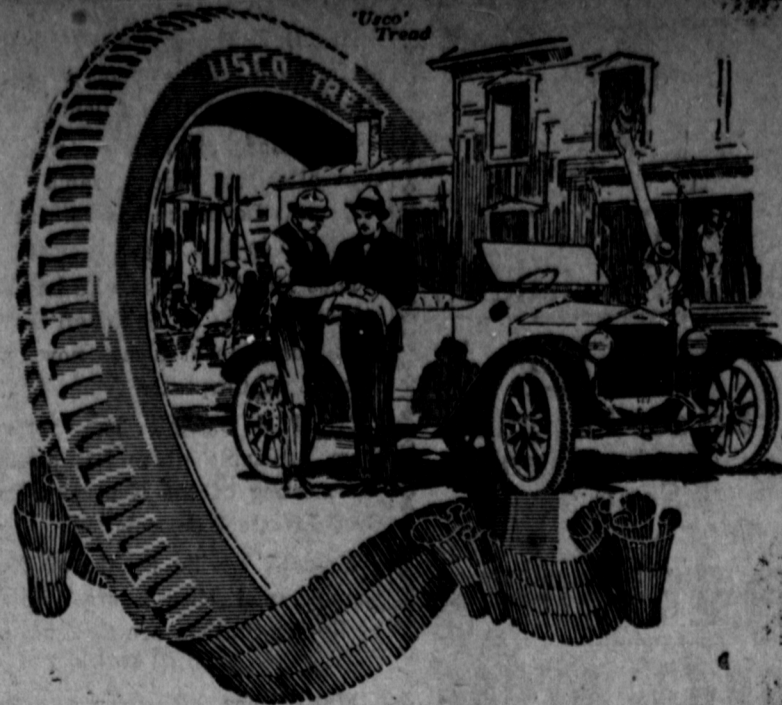

Reason, too late perhaps, may convince you of the folly of mis-spending time.

There is no proverb in the whole catalogue of them more true than a penny saved is a penny got.

Nothing but harmony, honesty, industry, and frugality are necessary to make us a great and happy nation.

These statements by George Washington as to wise personal economy might be paraphrased today in the injunction of the National Thrift Campaign—spend wisely, save intelligently, avoid waste—and invest safely; buy War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

James Dorsey, "Millionaire Cow King" of Illinois, is at last behind the bars of a Federal prison for eight years. For more than ten years this man has been selling tubercular cows to innocent buyers in all portions of the country.

The cross roads oracle says: Cheap, new land'll stand farmin' with nothin' but muscle. High priced ol' land these days have got to be worked with sure 'nuff brains.

Every time a man says he always tells people what he thinks of them to their faces poor old Ananias rolls over in his grave and wonders why he was selected as the goat.

MR. WILSON'S TRIUMPH

(From the New York Times)

Americans who regretted the President's decision to absent himself from the country in these days of domestic need and urgency, and the Times was one of those who regretted it, will not only cheerfully admit the greatness of his achievements at the Paris Conference, but will rejoice in their recognition of his now amply demonstrated fitness for the work he undertook. Mr. Wilson's presence at the conference has not been a cause of discord or of jealousy; it has not been resented. It was seen from the beginning that he went there not to dominate, as his critics said, but to unite the nations. He has been marvelously successful in bringing into agreement men who represented interests that seemed to be conflicting. His influence in this work has prevailed because all other nations represented looked upon him as a wise and impartial friend, interested only in making justice and the welfare of peoples the basis of the decisions reached. His triumph in securing unanimous approval of the league of nations constitution is one in which every American may take pride.

Mr. Wilson has a dreadful way with his critics. He does not reply to them, he does worse. They rail at him as an idealist, a visionary, a man without practical objectives, or if he have them, that they are impossible of acceptance; and they obligingly point out the things he ought to do. Mr. Wilson calmly continues his great labors, and presently lays his critics flat and leaves them helpless either by doing the very things they had proposed, and doing in a manner better than they ever dreamed of, or else by attaining his ends in a way that robs their objections of every point. We are confident that Mr. Beck, for instance, must regret the violence of the language he used in his Lincoln's Day speech when he said that Mr. Wilson's foreign policy throughout "has been a black stain of dishonor upon the American people;" that "his principles have been a crazy patchwork of contradictions," consistent only in one idea, that the war "must end in a peace without victory." If this be just criticism, then Mr. Wilson has as his accomplices in dishonoring the American people, in constructing "his crazy patchwork of contradictions," and in bringing the war to an end without victory, some fourteen nations of the earth, including the greatest civilized nations. Such criticism recoils disastrously upon him who utters it. Not even the natural desire of a great political party to find or create "issues" for the coming presidential election can give lodgment in the minds and hearts of the people to this estimate of Mr. Wilson's distinguished service.

The day when the project of the covenant of peace was approved unanimously in Paris was one of the greatest in the world's history. The people of all the nations understand that; the people of America, with their horror of war, cannot be fooled about it, they cannot be misled into any small and narrow view of its momentous promise. In bringing the plan of the league into acceptance, Mr. Wilson has played a master role, every American feels that in his heart, every American understands that he brought great abilities, extraordinary qualities of tact and persuasion, and a profound understanding of the need of all the peoples to the performance of his task. The American people will be impatient of any petty or partisan obstruction put in the way of the acceptance of this covenant of the nations as their public system of law and justice.

Of course, it is none of our business. But we have noticed that a woman isn't well dressed at an evening reception unless she is undressed. A lie can't endure forever, but while it does endure it travels a mile a minute.

PERSHING SMASHES THEM

Gen. Pershing's report of the health and general camp conditions at Brest should put to shame those garrulous grumblers—partisan politicians all—who take advantage of their return from Europe to pelt Washington and the public with lamentations and execrations over the horrible state of affairs which they claim to have left at Brest.

Gen. Pershing, without betraying any indication that he knows of the existence of these people, calmly demolishes them with the facts which he presents. As was his duty, he has kept informed regarding conditions at Brest all along, and he has made a personal inspection of the camp within the last month, in company with Gen. Harbord, his chief of staff, the chief surgeon and the inspector general of the American Expeditionary Forces. He speaks with authority and the plain facts and figures which he reports cannot be discredited by the vapors of ranting civilian politicians.

PEOPLE MUST TAKE MINERAL IRON

People Must Take Mineral Iron

Or They Get Sick And Lose Their Snap And Vitality

Thousands of people today, are suffering for want of iron, are tired, run down, and don't know what it is the matter with them—it's the lack of iron in the blood, that life-giving essential that rebuilds the worn out tissues from the food you eat and gives you strength, health and glow that nature intended you to have and which you would have but for the strenuous times in which we live.

Your physician will tell you that you must have an iron tonic if you go to him but in the greater number of cases the iron you get at the drug store is injurious to the teeth and irritates the stomach with the result that the risk is almost as bad as the cure.

Acid Iron Mineral overcomes these defects because it is a natural iron product that is mined out in Mississippi at the only mine of its kind in the world, coming to you without a particle of chemical treatment and can be used without fear of discoloring or injuring the teeth or hurting the stomach.

If you are having trouble with your kidneys, your stomach does not seem to do its work or your body is all out of plumb and you cannot get up your usual amount of energy to start the day right give Acid Iron Mineral a trial and see for yourself why we get so many letters from grateful people telling us that A. I. M. has given them back their usual strength and a new lease on life. A. I. M. is a liquid, therefore, full strength, take one teaspoonful in water three times a day. You take no chances because A. I. M. is guaranteed to be free from alcohol or injurious drugs and if you are not satisfied with results your dealer is instructed to give you back your money on demand. Don't delay, call for A. I. M. today. Manufactured by Ferrodoine Chemical Corporation, Roanoke, Va. For sale by Wm. S. Lloyd, druggist; White Drug Co., and any other good druggists.

political faith, and he is even mentioned by them as a possible nominee of their party for the presidency, but Republican politicians who are endeavoring to score a point in the political game by attacking the war record of a Democratic Administration will get no assistance from him. He is known, not as a politician, but as a straightforward soldier, and what he says about Brest, not what the scandal-mongers say, "goes."—Courier Journal.

COLLECTING CLAP TRAP

Uncle Billy Geyer was for many years a notable figure down in Northeastern Kentucky. He was frugality personified and a keen trader. Most of his money had been made in real estate and financing farmers at the after-the-war rates of interest.

And when he died his executor found bundles of old Confederate bills in his iron safe, mementoes of the great American weakness of taking a chance.

Uncle Billy Geyer wasn't a pioneer in this financial adventure has been the life of American business development through more than a century. He but ran true to form.

Thousands of Americans are doing the same today.

Simply collecting clap trap in the form of gaily illuminated stock certificates that aren't worth the paper they're printed upon and never will be.

And the tragedy of it all is that many of them are sacrificing their Liberty Bonds in the effort. Surrendering their certificates of loyal citizenship to the chance of making a killing. Doing Uncle Sam a real injury, however, unconsciously.

With no more chance than the proverbial snowball in Hell.

The woods are full of salesmen right now representing fake promotion schemes and holding out special inducements to Liberty Bond holders. Offering them so-called bargains extraordinary, especially in exchange for their bonds.

Nine out of ten of them are pure swindles.

So be on your guard. If one of these fellows puts his proposition up to you take him down to your banker. If he can sell the banker you may possibly be safe in taking a chance.

But if he can't, pass him up.

SCENERY

The famous artist took his brush, dipped it in a bucket of paint, and raked it across the surface of the canvass several times horizontally. When he had done this, he took the result of labor in hand and carefully placed it in an elaborate frame.

"What's the idea?" queried his visitor.

"Impressionistic study!" said the artist.

"Do you mean to tell me that is a finished painting?"

"Certainly."

"What are you going to call it?"

"A village street from the rear seat of a motorcycle."

COULD HARDLY STAND ALONE

Terrible Suffering From Headache, Sideache, Backache, and Weakness, Relieved by Cardui, Says This Texas Lady.

Gonzales, Tex.—Mrs. Minnie Phillips, of this place, writes: "Five years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side. It was right under my left rib. It would commence with an aching and extend up into my left shoulder and on down into my back. By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days... I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone. Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go... I suffered awful with a pain in my back and I had the headache all the time. I just was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help me.

One day a Birthday Almanac was thrown in my yard. After reading its testimonials I decided to try Cardui, and am so thankful that I did, for I began to improve when on the second bottle... I am now a well woman and feeling fine and the cure has been permanent for it has been two years since my awful bad health. I will always praise and recommend Cardui." Try Cardui today. B 75 paper clipping telling of the disaster in brief form, but as for the actual facts it can only be explained by one of the survivors, of which I am one. We left New York harbor on January 14th, and had a successful voyage to Falmouth, Eng., where we stopped on Jan. 28th, and received orders to proceed to Rotterdam, Holland. We were on our way to Rotterdam when we stopped at Goodwin Sands to take the pilot on board, who was going to guide us through the North Sea to Rotterdam. After stopping for about one-half hour we then attempted to start when we found the ship was stuck fast in the sand and would not even budge. We then called for aid, and then there was several small tug boats which came and worked from Wednesday night until Saturday trying their utmost to bring the ship to deeper water where we could go on to Rotterdam. Last night, Jan. 31st, about 6 o'clock the walls of the engine room began to give way, and then the cargo smashed through the shaft alley. Following that were several explosions caused by the water beginning to enter the fire room. The men all stuck to the ship until we realized that the case was hopeless. Then the Captain gave orders to lower life boats, which was obeyed at once. We then began trying to save as many of our necessary clothing as possible. As we began lowering the life boats, several of the men got into them too soon, when suddenly some one cut one of the lines and caused the boat to capsize, and all the men in them were thrown into the water from a height of 25 feet, and I happened to be one of them. There were about 30 of us that went over. I sank about 15 feet in the water and when I came up I was almost 20 feet from the ship. I was able to swim back and grab a rope. I climbed that rope and was again aboard the sinking ship. The Captain gave orders for us to go down and rescue the men floating in the water. There were three of us that went over the side to get the men who were hollowing for their lives. When we reached the water the life boat was lowered and we began dragging them in one by one. We rescued all of the men in the water near our life boat but three, and they were carried away by the coming-in tide, and were beyond our rescue. We then took on all baggage that the life boat was capable of carrying, and left the ship, oaring with all our strength to get to a large tug-boat for relief. After about 20 minutes of hard struggling we reached the tug-boat where we were taken aboard and put by a good warm fire to bring life into the ones that were almost frozen to death. The boat was controlled by an American Captain under the British Navy. We all changed clothing and put on dry uniforms, and sat around a big warm fire talking matters over. Although I went into the water and got soaking wet I was able to hold my nerve and strength and help to man the boat and take care of the three officers that were almost frozen. The tug-boat brought us to the "Sailor's Home" at Dover, England. We were properly cared for and it was almost like being at home. We had plenty to eat and good warm beds to sleep in, and all of the clothes we wanted. I lost all of my clothing, bedding and everything else I possessed except what I had on, but today I have as many clothes as I ever owned and a good warm bed to sleep in. The people at the "Sailor's Home" have certainly been nice to us and done everything in their power to make us feel at home. You need not worry a minute about me for I am perfectly safe and feeling bigger and stronger than ever before and take it from my heart, that I am not camouflaging a bit, and every word I have said concerning our safe keeping is the PURE TRUTH. Part of the crew is at Deal, England, and the rest of us at Dover. We will leave tomorrow for London, and return to the States very soon. I would have sent you a cablegram but it cost more than I could stand. Will try and write you again when we get to London.

Tonight most of us are out on liberty parties seeing the town, and having a good time. I am now with my best pal, "Maxwell W. Martin," at the Salvation Army Recreation and Reading Room, and we are both writing home. Will telegraph you just as soon as I get to New York, and I want you to be ready to try and get me out of the Navy if there is any chance in the world, for I can't hardly wait to get home and tell all about all I have seen over here, and in the U. S. besides. Be "Johnny on the Spot" when ever you hear I am back in the States. Asking you again to take it that I am not camouflaging. Kiss Papa, Ewell Lee and Robert for me,

With lots of love to all,
LEONARD PAYNE.

P. S. Answer this letter and send it to the Navy Y. M. C. A., 167 Sands Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and then I can get it as soon as I get back as I will be more than anxious to get it. They will keep it, so you might answer at once.

LOYALTY'S LAST LEGS

American loyalty stood the test of the world war most nobly. Never for an instant was there faltering or hanging back.

Always loyalty stepped into the breach; met every demand.

And now that the victory is won, that triumph and honor are ours, let us trust that loyalty is not on its last legs.

We don't believe, we cannot believe that this is so.

For Americans have been patriots since the battle of Lexington. Never have they turned their backs upon the enemy, upon their sacred obligations.

It's too late to begin now.

Uncle Sam shortly will begin to ask us to lend him another $5,000,000,000, that he may appropriately finish the big job he took in hand after the sinking of the Lusitania. The job that insured democracy, freedom and liberty for the world.

The job that meant perpetuity for American institutions, stability for American government, immunity from German tribute, safety for American womankind, and protection against Hun invasion.

If loyalty ever faltered, ever hesitated, ever questioned, certainly it must react to this demand.

For after all it is only a matter of dollars.

Fifty thousand American lives were sacrificed in France. Half a million would have paid the price had the war gone on another six months.

Compared to this what is $5,000,000,000?

Nothing calculated to stagger American loyalty.

Nor will it. Americans will run true to form. They will come through!

"Old Father Hubbard went to the cupboard

To get his poor self a drink, But as he drew nigh the country went dry,

So he got him a drink at the sink."

The ballot tolls the knell of parting booze,

The thirsty herd walks slowly up the ave.

The clubman homeward plods, he cannot choose;

There is no one to say, "What will you have?"

OVERWORKED, TIRED WOMAN TOOK VINOL

Now She is Strong and Hearty

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was overworked, run down, nervous, could not eat or sleep. I felt like crying all the time. I tried different remedies without benefit. The doctor said it was a wonder I was alive, and when Vinol was given me I began to improve. I have taken eight bottles and am now strong and perfectly healthy in every respect, and have gained in weight." I can not praise Vinol enough.—Mrs. Sarah A. Jones, 1025 Nevada St., Philadelphia, Pa.

We guarantee Vinol to make overworked, weak women strong or return your money. Formula on every bottle. This is your protection.
